SALT LAKE HAS DETENTION HOME

Where Delinquents Under Jurisdiction Juvenile Court May Be Detained.

LARGE, ROOMY, WELL-VENTILATED BUILDING

Known as the Morris Home, Named in Honor of the Mayor.

Salt Lake City now has a detention home where delinquents who come under the jurisdiction of the juvenile court may be detained pending final disposition of their cases. To use the words of Judge Willis Brown, a juvenile court without a detention home is almost as good as no court at all, and this is why determined efforts have been made to estabmined efforts have been made to estab-lish such a place in Salt Lake City. The result is a large, roomy, well-ventilated and well-heated building at 272 West Second North street, in charge of a matron and superintendent, where boys who require the attention of the court, but who are not sufficiently bad to war-rant sending them to the State Industrial school at Ogden, may be cared for tem-porarily.

Building Is Roomy.

Building Is Roomy.

The building used is known as the Morris home, being named in honor of Mayor Morris. It is rented to the superintendent of the school, who in turn is paid a certain sum each week for the boys board. At present there are eighteen boys at the home. Each is provided with a clean, separate bed at night and with the best of plain food. Within a short time a school room will be fitted up so that those who are sent there may continue their studies under the guidance of a competent teacher. The building is roomy, sets back a distance from the street, and is surrounded with a large yard. Fireplaces in nearly every room gives the interior a homelike appearance, and it is indeed quite a novel sight to see the boys at their work, or play, as the case may be.

Boys Do All the Work.

Boys Do All the Work. Practically speaking, the boys do all the work. They scrub the floors, wash and whe the dishes, make their own beds sweep, wait on table and various other duties that are required of them. A good report from the superintendent means that they will be sent to their own homes within a given space of time, and each boy is thus placed on his good behavior with the full knowledge of the consequences which will follow should he leave the home or break the rules.

Simply a Test.

Simply a Test.

Simply a Test.

"It is simply a test." said Judge Brown in speaking of the home. "Take, for instance, the case of a young boy who has stolen small articles upon several occasions. Possibly the boy is a good boy at heart and has only fallen into bad company. On the other hand, perhaps his parents are to blame inasmuch as they have falled to provide for him as they have falled to provide for him as they should or give him any attention. In such cases we have a place to send the boy without sending him to Ogden. Especially is this true as regards the cases where the parents are to blame. While the boy is in the Morris home he will have good food and good care. It gives us time to look the parents up and ascertain just what should be done.

Mistakes Are Dangerous.

Mistakes Are Dangerous.

"Mistakes are dangerous and costly, and especially where they affect the future of a young man or young woman is this true. Without a home of this kind we are continually help and the second and the second are second as a second and the second are second as a second as a second as a second as a second are second as a true. Without a home of this kind we are continually being confronted with cases we are utterly at sea how to handle. Perhaps the boy is not a bad boy, but his associations are bad, and his surroundings are far from what they should be. In such cases what should we do? We can't send the boy to Ogden. We can't very well send him back to a home that is worse than no home at all. We can't take all of such cases into our own homes, for if we did we would have to move into larger quarters and use our move into larger quarters and use our own funds to maintain such a place.

Difficulties Overcome.

First of all it was necessary to secure n place that would be suitable and next it was necessary to secure furnishings for the home. When it came to the latter proposition very little trouble was experlenced, as four of the leading furni-ture houses of Salt Lake responded to the arguments advanced by Judge Brown, and fitted the large residence building selected from top to bottom. While admitting that from top to bottom. While admitting that they were under no obligations to donate so liberally to the cause, it didn't take the business men approached very long to see the position the court was in without such a place, and no time was lost in agreeing to the requests. Just order anything that the home needs from my store, was the way one of the proprietors put it, and it wont cost you a penny.

Parents Pay for Board.

Unless the parents of the boys are in destitute circumstances, they are obliged to pay for the expense incurred but where one of the parents is dead, or unable to provide sufficient money for the proper support of the child, the city pays a stated sum just the same as it pays for the maintenance of a prisoner at the city fail.

Boys Are Not Sentenced.

The boys are not sentenced for so many The boys are not sentenced for so many days, but instead are given so many merit and demerit marks. In no case is a boy kept at the home-more than sixty days. In case he proves that he is a fit subject for the industrial home, he is sent to Ogden, but if not, he is either returned to his parents or arrangements made to secure a permanent home for him in some good family.

Judge Brown Oversees.

Judge Willis Brown gives the school his personal supervision, spending all of his evenings there and making frequent visits during the day. An office has been fitted up in the building and many of the boys report there instead of going to the city and county building.

Five Boys From Ogden.

Five Boys From Ogden.

Already five boys who were sent to the industrial school have been returned to the Morris home. None of them were considered extreme cases when they were sent up, but no other alternative was open to the court. The school at Ogden is crowded almost to its full capacity at the present time and the new school will also help to relieve the congested condition there from this on, as many who otherwise would have been transferred to Ogden will remain here. There are now eighteen boys at the Morris school and at least three more will be there by this evening.

Pleased With Building.

Many have called to inspect the building and to personally see just how the hoys are being cared for, and it goes without saying that so far no one has had any fault to find. Every convenience has been arranged that would provide the comforts of a horae, and the cleanly, sweet-smelling rooms of the whole building make an ideal place for the lads who will from time to time be sent there.

Judge Telephones Orders.

During the course of the regular work Friday afternoon, Judge Brown was called to the telephone by a teacher in one of the schools. Information was furnished that three boys of a certain grade were suspected of stealing perfume from a small store near the school, and the Judge was asked to assist in the work of

ROUND-UP OF TRUANT CHILDREN TO BEGIN

Officers Will See That Compulsory-Education Law Is Rigidly Enforced.

A round-up of school children who are not attending school will be begun by the truent officers next week. The law requires every boy and girl between the ages of 8 and 18 years to attend school at least thirty weeks during the year.

Parents Subject to Arrest.

Parents Subject to Arrest.

The compulsory-education law was amended in several particulars by the last Legislature, and was reinforced by the Juvenile coart law, which makes non-attendance at school delinquency. Under this law not only may the child be brought into court and put under the surveillance of the probation officers, but the parents or others who fail to require or in any way prevent the children from attending school are subject to trial and punishment for contributing to the delinquency of the child. This applies to a merchant or other person who gives employment to a child between the ages named so that the child may not attend school. chool.

Will Warn Employers.

The officials of the Juvenile court say they will see that the law is enforced, but they will give notice and warning to employers and others, so they may provive other help in the place of children employed in any capacity that may prevent attendance at some school.

cides in Favor of Wilkinson.

Salt Lake City tent No. 2, Knights of the Maccabees, at its regular review held last evening, elected A. B. Edler as permanent record keeper to fill the unexpired term of the late record keeper, E. J. Wilkinson. Mr. Edler has been engaged for the last three months in straightening out the affairs of the tent and has succeeded in getting the tent in a fair way to extricate itself from the financial difficulties in which it came to his hands. Mr. Edler reports the tent reinstated by the supreme tent, and no further difficulty in this regard is anticipated. E. J. Wilkinson, the former record keeper, took exception to the action of the tent in the matter of his account and appealed to the supreme tent upheld Mr. Wilkinson has satisfactorily settled with the tent. Sait Lake City tent No. 2 is now on a solid basis and will at once commence a campaign to increase its membership.

MEDAL FOR HIGH SCHOOL

Salt Lake School Exhibit Best One at Portland Fair.

The high school last night received word from Prof. L. A. Ostlen that their exhibit at the Lewis and Clark fair had taken a gold medal for being the best high school exhibit at the fair. The exhibit was situated in a small room in one side of the Utah building and was very attractive. On all the three walls were hung paintings and manuscripts done by students of the school, and on two rows of long tables were numerous leather-bound books with pictures of the cadets, faculty, high school buildings, class and laboratory rooms and numerous other things connected with the school.

The good news for the high school, as received last night by City Superintendent of Schools Christensen, is as follows: "Sait Lake City takes gold medal on high school exhibit." The high school last night received word

"saving" the youngsters. Without hesitation he asked the teacher in question to have one of the boys step to the telephone. The lad did so, and from his office in the city and county building Judge Brown reasoned with the boy and instructed him what to do in such a manner that all three appeared of their own accord at the Morris school a few moments later, ready to tell the whole story. No officer was sent after them because they were willing to go of their own accord.

An Exceptional Case.

Here is an exceptional case. A lad 16 cars of age was known to be stealing Here is an exceptional case. A lad 16 years of age was known to be stealing from his employer. Judge Brown was asked to talk with him and an interview was arranged at the school. At first the young man denied having taken a cent, but after talking with the Judge a few minutes and being assured that he would get a square deal, he confessed everything. It was his first offense. He was a bright boy and well liked by his employer. The Judge thought the matter over, talked with both the young man and his employer and finally made arrangements for the former to resume his position and continue in the store until a certain date, when he will start going to school. In that way even the boy's friends need not know of his treuble, and an opportunity is thus given him to brace up and start all over again. "And he'll do it, too," said the Judge. "I am sure that fellow will never take another cent. He is good-hearted and as bright as a sliver dollar. I am going to look after him personally."

CONFERENCE TO GO TO SMOOT'S TOWN

Last Threat of Hierarchy to Coerce Younger Members of Church.

LATTER ARE BREAKING AWAY FROM HIERARCH

Numbers Have Determined to Vote as Free Citizens for American Party.

his fall, the semi-annual conferences of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints will hereafter be held at Prove or some other stronghold of the Saints This is the latest bit of gossip that is being circulated by those who attended the last conference in this city-circulated the last conference in this city—circulated not only in Salt Lake, but reports of it have come in from several of the surrounding towns. No less a personage than the son of a former president of the church is quoted as authority for the statement that this was determined at the secret meeting of the priesthood, which was largely attended not only by local brethren, but by members from the outside.

Why Threat Is Made.

Just why this was determined. The Tribune's informant declined to state, but intimated that by such a threat the authorities hoped to hold the Saints in line and prevent, if possible, the election of the American ticket.

News had reached them from many quarters that the younger members of the church especially are breaking away from the rule which has held them so long, and have determined to vote this fall, at least, as free American citizens.

Hierarchy Decides on Drastic Measure Becoming alarmed at the prospect, 'the authorities' are said to have decided to take stringent measures to bring the young people to time. As is well known, the semi-annual conference of the church is a reunion to which all Saints, whether faithful or lax, anticipate with more or less eagerness. To some it means a renewal of religious fervor, to others a reunion of friends, and to others still a big profit from the standpoint of business.

Think It Effectual Whip.

From whatever standpoint they view it From whatever standpoint they view it, the holding of the conference in some other town of the State would be a loss to the Saints of this city, and a gain to the town to which it may be transferred. And so the hierarchy, taking all matters into consideration, are said to have decided that this would be the most effectual whip they could use to bring the more liberal-minded of the Saints to their way of thinking, and their way of voting.

Question of a Building.

The question of a building in which to hold the conference in some other town might be a problem for some people, but would not be for the church rulers. From the tithes of the faithful and the profits of their enormous business interests, it would be but a small matter for them to duplicate the Tabernacle, or even build one of much greater dimensions should the young Mormons defy them in their threat.

threat.

And this lends additional interest to the outcome of the election in November, especially to the Saints.

TROUBLE IN STORE FOR HARTENSTEIN

Selection of Successor to Cohen Promises to Arouse the Republicans.

ONUS OF CHOICE IS PUT UPON HARTENSTEIN

Hewlett and Preece View With Alarm the Weaning Away of Republican Votes.

In spite of the constant reports that he Republicans and Democrats are working hand and hand together, the machinery is scraping badly in many joints. It is apparent to those on the inside that there is an underlying sentiment towards defeating the American party; on this point both the church parties are agreed. But when it comes to the point of secur-ing a political advantage over the other, both parties balk in a manner calculated to destroy all harmony between them. The latest discord between the Remnants and Orphans is caused by the appoint-ment of a storekeeper to succeed Joseph Cohen, recently resigned.

Hartenstein Will Name Him.

Mayor Morris has given Councilman Hartenstein the privilege of maming Mr. Cohen's successor. Hartenstein needs all the assistance at the command of his friends in order to make a decent showing in his ward, in which ominous growlings are constant at the record of Hartenstein in the Council. Hartenstein, so it is said, has selected a young Republican to fill Cohen's place. This young man has a number of Republican votes in his family residing in Hartenstein's ward, and it is esiding in Hartenstein's ward, and it is hought that these votes will be thrown o Hartenstein as a reward for this par-icular appointment.

Republicans Will Object.

Republicans Will Object.

This is a very comforting thought for the Councilman from the Fourth ward, the man who is such a staunch friend of the hierarch, and no doubt he considers this a wise political move. But Councilmen Hewlett and Preece, also on the trail of votes, view with the same old-time alarm the wealing away of Republican votes to suit the ends of frightened Democrats. They have no objection to a Republican being appointed to the office as storekeeper for the water company, even though the Mayor is a Democrat, but they insist on selecting him, and that he be one who will not swap his birthright for a mess of political pottage. Hartenstein is more than likely to run up against the opposition of his former Councilmanic bed-fellows when he presents the name of his choice for Joseph Cohen's berth.

Canvassers and Voters Confide.

Canvassers and Voters Confide.

Canvassers and Voters Confide.

Americans are smiling broadly over a choice bit of news from the Third precinct. A canvasser for one of the church parties was taking the canvass in one of the districts in the Third, and asked one woman how her family was going to vote. She answered evasively, and the canvasser informed her that it would practically be the same whether they voted for the Republicans or Democrats, and he implored her for heaven's sake to prevent them from voting the American ticket. Such incidents prove conclusively how the old parties regard the American party. One woman in the Second precinct was asked by an American envasser how she was going to vote, and she repiled in all the innocence of truth. "I don't know, they haven't told me yet."

Betting Begins Lively.

The published dreams of various Republicans which have assumed the nature of offers to wager the good coin of the realm on the political results have awakened the sporting proclivities in other localities. Friday afternoon $500 was posted in the office of a prominent real estate firm to be placed that Mulvey and Black will be elected in the Fifth ward. A number of gentlemen of different political complexions were discussing some wagers, that J. E. Elfredge, bud placed wagers that J. U. Eldredge had placed on Lynch, and one of them remarked. "That shows pretty well how they expect the grace of God to be distributed."

Strike Morris Below Belt.

Richard P. Morris is said to have prom ed the Ministerial association, wh was a candidate two years ago, that is dected he would "never, never, cross his leart and honest to God," stand for the heart and honest to God," stand for the "wide-open" policy in force in Salt Lake. Yet he has but recently visited the tenderion on a campaign tour and it is commonly known that the Mayor and Chief Lynch will stand for everything which the Ministerial association was promised would be suppressed. The Chief's friends, now that the alleged Republican party has nominated him for Mayor, say Chief Lynch is acting under orders of Mayor Morris. It is really funny to see how brutally bold the Chief's friends are in loading this matter on the Mayor. It loading this matter on the Mayor. It looks a whole lot like batting a fellow who is too groggy to defend himself. But the partisans of Lynch keep on striking the Mayor below the belt and the Mayor does not dare to cry "foul."

Republicans are compelled to instruct their friends that the flag on the ballot does not stand for the American party. They do not dare wear it as an emblem. The Americans continue to wear the flag and thus add to the discomfiture of the Republicans. The Americans, on the other hand, are made up of a higher order of intelligence and are easily drilled to know their new emblems.

EXHORTED AGAINST UTAH HOT SHOT FROM POLYGAMOUS CHURCH

President Joseph Smith of Reorganized Church Concludes His Series of Addresses.

He devot d his discoutse largely to the dectrines and articles of faith of the Mormon church up to the death of Joseph and Hyrum Smith. It contained no suggestion of polygamy, but counseled strict obedience to the laws of State and Nation.

WILL PREPARE TO CHARM

Symphony Orchestra Mcets Tomorrow to Begin Year's Work. The first business meeting of members of he Symphony orchestra will be held tomorrow afternoon at I o clock at the studio of Arthur afternoon at 3 o clock at the studio of Arthur Shepherd. At that time a programme for the first of the Symphony concerts, to be given December 4 at the Salt Lake theater, will be decided upon, and practice for the concert will begin in carnest.

John D. Spencer, the business manager, says the outlook for a successful season is encouraging. The concerts last year were not a paying venture—in fact the management lost money—but Mr. Spencer has a new plan this year which he believes will make it possible for the orchestra to at least make expenses.

The plan is this: In addition to obtaining subscriptions of money, Mr. Spencer will try to secure pledges from a number of people who are interested in the success of the Symphony concerts to buy a certain number of tickets for each concert. In this way, with the money subscriptions already promised and those Mr. Spencer hopes to get, he believes the concerts can be put on a paying basis.

MADE ORGANIST AT OGDEN

Walter Poulton Will Take Charge of Ogden Tabernacle Organ. Walter Poulton of this city, who studied mder Jonas last year and has for some time been à student of the organ under Mr McClellan, has been appointed organist in the Ogden Tabernacle. Mr Poulton will continue to make his home here, going to Ogden twice a week. He is a gifted young musician and his friends will be glad to learn of the honor which has come to him.

Mrs. Gatewood Released.

Mrs. Mary Gatewood, the elderly lady who was accused of the theft of a small sum of money from a residence which she had entered to sell a tollet preparation, was discharged Friday afternoon by Judge Diehl. The cuse against her was not sufficient to warrant conviction, masmuch as the testimony was composed entirely of circumstantial evidence.

are all that have come in. The certifi-cates must all be filed not less than fif-teen days before the election, which this year falls on November 7. October 22 is thus the last day on which certificates of nomination can be filed.

BACK HAS WITHDRAWN.

Democratic Nominee for Council in Third Ward Steps From Ticket.

The rumors which were so thick several days ago to the effect that there would be a vacancy in the Democratic Councilmanic ticket in the Third ward have proved correct, and John H. Back, who had the unique distinction of defeatwho had the unique distinction of defenting Fernstrom for renomination, assisted by John Holly, has withdrawn from the ticket. Mr. Back sent his letter of withdrawal to J. H. Haslam, chairman of the Third municipal Democratic ward, Friday. It is dated October 13 and reads as follows:

J. H. Haslam, Esc., Democratic Chairman of the Third Municipal Word, Salt Lake City— Dear Sir.—Since my nomination as a candi-date for the City Council for the Third Muni-cipal ward, changes in the business with which I am and have been connected will make it necessary for me bereafter to be ab-sent from the city the greater part of the time. Is therefore respectfully withdraw from the ticket.

time. Is therefore respectfully witnesses, the ticket.

I greatly appreciate the honor conferred upon me, and the support given me by my friends, and deeply regret that this action becomes necessary. Pledging my earnest support to the Democratic ticket. I am, respectfully yours.

Haslam will call the committee together at an early date and fill the vacancy thus caused. Just who the appointee will be is not definitely known, but it is said Mr. Fernstrom has quite a following in favor of him being designated.

At the American headquarters this afternoon the ladies of the auxiliary will meet. All ladies interested in the success of the American party are urged to be present, especially the wives of the candidates.

The Americans, Republicans and Demo crats have their young women stenogra-phers busy at work. Margaret R. Little is at the American rooms, Phyllis Lynch at the Republican, and Vista Nichols at the Democratic headquarters.

The register at the American party headquarters is becoming a matter of in-terest there. Friday afternoon Matthew A Dougherty of 132 N street, after sign-ing his name, wrote: "There it is. Time cannot erase it, and posterity can see it." A R Carter. American hominee for the Council from the Second ward, was talking about the election recently with his opponent, J. A. Eckman, the Republican nominee, and the latter said that he would win because the bishops and tenchers were with him.

JUDGE A. J. WEBER

No Such Thing as Politics it. Salt Lake or Utah, He Declares.

RECALLS HISTORY TO CORRECT SOME KICKER

Strikes the Political Branchell of Church Straight From the Shoulder.

"The Republicans are asking you give them control of the city, and in turn for your votes of confidence w do they promise to give you?" as Judge Weber last night while speak before the Americans of the Second was They will give you a policeman Mayor," said the Judge smid my laughter. The speech of Judge Wr was one of the most eloquent and co vincing heard during the present car paign. He hit the political branches the church shoulder blows and gave so history which will cause some squirm when it is fully comprehended.

Classifies Hartenstein.

"There is no such thing as politics Salt Lake or Utah," continued Jud Weber. "There is no such thing as Republican or Democratic party. In 8s Lake City we have a Council composed seven Mormons, seven Gentlies and of Hartenstein. The Democrats brag about the improvements which the taxpaye have petitioned and paid for during it past two years. They say this is withey should be again put in power, I at Ogden, I will venture to say, the has been more improvement going a during the past two years in properties to the population than right here in Sa Lake. Will the Democrats go to Ogde and tell the people of that city the should return the Republicans to powering the past work and the second of the city the should return the Republicans to powering the provements under their administration?

"The Democrats might as well take I provements under their administration. "The Democrats might as well take it credit for all the houses erected duri the past two years just because the prints to build were issued by a Democrabuilding inspector, as to say they entirely responsible for the improvemental in Sait Lake. Some Bothersome History.

"Both the Republican and Democracing parties are protesting against the claim of the Americans that the church is inpolitics. Is the dominant church in politics? I recall many witnesses in this state who can enlighten the people of that score. Time and time again have heard Judge Powers vigorously condems the Mormon church's meddling with the political affairs of this city and state, recall the speech of W. H. King at Farmington in which he denounced the grither church had on the political affairs of this State. I recall similar expression from George Sutherland, nor is his nan a slip of the tongue. From all ever the State I can bring you witnesses who, the political leaders, will condemn thave condemned the control by the Momon church of political Utah. Why we Reed Smoot sent to the United State Senate if it were not that the churwanted a representative, a political representative, in that bedy?"

Judge Weber ended with a brilliant worded picture of what will occur aftithe American party is successful, and it audience applauded him to the echo.
